C-NP-CA-2880

Date: March 25, 2025
To: Daikin, Goodman, and Amana® brand Internal, Sales and Distribution
From: Claudio Moncada, Senior Product Manager
Subject: New R-410A Coils for Service and Warranty Only

We are pleased to announce new R-410A coils for service and warranty purposes only.

Appendix – Residential Unitary R-410A Service Coils

An appendix is included with this PMN providing a list of R-410A residential unitary coils that can be replaced for service and warranty purposes with existing R-410A coils that may still be in inventory. After inventory is depleted for a particular coil, new service coil part numbers are provided for each coil.

This appendix is also available at R32Ready.com.

Sales Impact:

- R-410A coils manufactured up to December 31, 2024, will be available, while supplies last, for new systems installations through December 31, 2025.
- New R-410A coils, manufactured on or after January 1, 2025, will be for service and warranty only and will have 0270D prefix identification.
- New R-410A coils, manufactured on or after January 1, 2025, will not have AHRI ratings since they are for warranty and service only.

Our Customer Service Team is prepared to assist you in addressing customer inquiries regarding this transition.
